

Sylvain-Henri has benefited enormously from his 10 years of experience in the international Francophone communities of the world (Morocco, France, Louisiana, and several provinces and territories of Canada) as an adventurer, artist and teacher.

He detains a Bachelor's degree in musical Education (professional certificate in Alberta and Northwest Territories valid) and completed his musical studies at the « École National de la Chanson » - the National School of Songs; a recognised school of music for singer songwriters (www.jechante.org).

In 2006, Sylvain-Henri moved to Jasper National Park to teach music in a small Francophone school, l'École Desrochers. This same year, he was the overall winner of the 17th « Gala de la Chanson », a French singer songwriter competition. Sylvain-Henri won three awards; the public choice award, the France Levasseur-Ouimet award and the Musiklip Radio-Canada award (video clip production with CBC).

In September 2009, Sylvain-Henri decided to put teaching aside to devote his time and energy on a commercial recording. Thus, he began a musical tour of various schools from Vancouver (B.C.) to Moncton (N.B.) via the Northwest Territories. Upon returning from the Vancouver Olympics in February 2010, Sylvain-Henri dedicated his time to the production of his album "MONDE À PART", of which he is the songwriter and composer for all its musical content.

In January 2010, he received a grant from the Alberta Foundation for the Arts and Musicaction. This contribution allowed him to record a first CD for youth entitled "MONDE À PART TOME-01", which was released in 2011. The MONDE À PART album won the honor of "Jeunesse francophone en action" from the Centre de la francophonie des Amériques. This prize is awarded to projects that demonstrate vision and innovation in the promotion of the French language. In addition, MONDE À PART received a bursary from the Centre de la Francophonie des Amériques.
